

November 5, 2021

To Embassy of Georgia in China:

This is Vanke School of Public Health, Tsinghua University in China. We would like to introduce the International Master of Public Health Program (IMPH) under “YOUTH OF EXCELLENCE SCHEME OF CHINA (YES CHINA)”-Master Program Chinese Government Scholarship to you.

This one-year Master of Public Health program (teaching in English) is aimed at contributing to the cultivation of a new generation of leaders working in the public health sectors in the developing world. A special Chinese Government Scholarship for Excellency in collaboration with the Chinese Ministry of Education is offered to IMPH candidates, which is not only a full scholarship but also covers international travels and free on-campus dormitory accommodation. It will be appreciated if the embassy could recommend 2 to 3 potential students with at least 3 years full-time working experience in public health area from your country to apply for this IMPH program. The application deadline is at the end of March, 2022. Please refer more information from the attached brochure or visit the Tsinghua University Application System for Graduate Admission:

<http://gradadmission.tsinghua.edu.cn/f/login>

Introduction to Vanke School of Public Health, Tsinghua University

The establishment of Tsinghua University Vanke School of Public Health is a timely demonstration of Tsinghua's capacity to shoulder its responsibilities as a globally-leading university. Tsinghua University Vanke School of Public Health aims to be a catalyst for high -level international cooperation and industry collaboration, delivering outstanding personnel training, academic faculty development and cutting-edge scientific research. With a strong foundation and mandate, the School will improve the national public health system and the overall national governance, as well as promote the development of global public health and human health undertakings.

Should you have any inquiries, please contact:

Ms. Emily Yin

Email: vsphacademic@tsinghua.edu.cn

Tel: +86 10 62781788, 15210457769

Thank you for your great support to Tsinghua University and IMPH Program!

Best Regards,

IMPH Program Office

Vanke School of Public Health, Tsinghua University

Beijing, China